

For more information,
please contact:

Chad Tindol
UA System
Office of Risk Management
205.348.5889
ctindol@uasystem.edu

UA Office of Fraternity & Sorority Life
205.348.2693
OFSL@ua.edu

UA Hazing Hotline
205.348.HALT (4258)

UAB Office of Student Involvement & Leadership
205.934.8020
greeks@uab.edu

To report hazing at UAB:
hazing@uab.edu

UAH Office of Housing & Greek Life
256.824.6108
housing@uah.edu

UAH 24-Hour Hotline
256.824.STOP

 Follow us on Twitter

 Visit our website

Five Basics About Greek Risk Management

Twenty-five years ago, insurance companies ranked fraternities #6 on their list of risks. Hazardous waste companies were #7.

Given these facts, insurance companies were not just raising rates on fraternity and sorority groups; insurers were refusing to sell coverage. Without insurance:

- Groups could not own a house.
- Groups could not hold a social event in their house.
- Groups could not even rent a bus to take them to an off-campus event.

To find a solution, Greek organizations changed their model. The Fraternal Information and Programming Group (FIPG) was born. FIPG is “a consortium of men’s and women’s fraternities and sororities which provides leadership in establishing and developing policies and practices for member organizations...through risk management.” (Source: FIPG Risk Management Manual)

Here are 5 basics of Greek risk management:

1. It’s Your Idea.

Risk management is a Greek-led and student-led effort to provide a safe environment for your members and guests. Protect your people. Protect your house. Own your process.

2. It’s Important to You Personally.

Lawsuits can be difficult to file against organizations. So, how do lawyers improvise? Sue the members. One recent case saw 86 members of a fraternity individually sued. Their parents and their parents’ homeowners insurance were potentially liable.

3. It’s Important to Your Future.

Your reputation is your most valuable asset, and it is fragile. Mistakes you make today can impact tomorrow.

4. Your Group is Already Managing Its Risks.

Your chapter officers are already charged with risk management responsibility. The courts expect it. You can either help, or be part of the problem.

5. Risk Management is Ongoing.

The four steps of risk management are to identify your risks, analyze those risks, do something to reduce hazards, and then monitor what’s working. Remember the shampoo instructions? “Wash. Rinse. Repeat.” Be vigilant.

Welcome to the 2016-2017 academic year. Let’s make the best of it by following the lead of FIPG and effectively managing your risks. In the coming months, the Greek Risk Bulletins will help you accomplish that objective.